

BARRE DAILY TIMES

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at Barre as Second Class Matter.

SATURDAY, MAY 19, 1906.

We shall yet be needing cyclone cellars in Vermont.

Representative Haskins probably figures that he has got the enemy's guns in Montpelier spiked through the post-mastership.

In all this twaddle over the governorship, Hindley is getting more attention than his employer, Clement. Why should the attacks be directed at Hindley? He is only the agent of the aspirant for governor, and so far as we know is not trying for any office. It is like a court scene in which a witness is being tried and not the accused. Yet the javelin-kissed Hindley comes up smiling each week.

VALUELESS COMMUNICATIONS.

The anonymous letter writer is working in connection with the state house of correction nowadays as the attorney general and the investigating commission have received several unsigned communications. Those persons who are not courageous enough to sign their articles, even when promised freedom from publicity, have no license to write, and it is moreover a waste of time on their part, as Attorney General Fitts has stated that the board will pay no attention to unsigned communications. How are the investigators to determine the reliability of the alleged information? They will not know whether it comes from reputable parties or from persons who are actuated by spite and malice. If the anonymous writers have any knowledge of the house of correction that would be helpful to the commission, it is due from them as citizens of Vermont to make it known openly and man-fashion and not by trying to sneak behind the skirts of anonymity. Let's be open about it or keep silence.

CLEVER SCHEME NIPPED.

A scheme which was being worked under the new census law was nipped in the bud in Burlington. It was the clever move of a candidate for office, and a prominent one at that, to go around with the party affiliation slips among those Republicans who had neglected to sign and to get the signatures of those who would vote for his candidacy for nomination. In this manner the aforesaid candidate reaped about two hundred votes, as he thought. Then he turned in the slips himself, perhaps to save the trouble of going to the assessors' office. But there is where the machinery slipped a cog. The city attorney of Burlington, when appealed to for an opinion on the matter, decided that the voters must present the party affiliation slips themselves and not by proxy. Consequently the two hundred votes for the over-zealous Republican candidate were thrown out and he had all his labor for nothing. What makes the scheme more to be criticized was the fact that the party slips passed out for signature were not those which the secretary of state furnished by law, but some which had been printed by private parties, as near like the official slips as possible. The very intention of the framers of the law, to prevent the parking of caucuses, was being thwarted and by a Republican who claims to be a good citizen, too. This is another "bakey" spot in this leaky boat which the legislature of 1904 threw us into.

You've all heard about the fire. Now come and hear about the bargains. To begin with, the fire did not touch our stock, and we got very little damage from the smoke, but the Clothing did get on the "water wagon" and some of it got a good soak. Only part of it, however, and as we examine into it we find much less damage than we expected—in fact some of the Suits are positively undamaged, not touched by fire, water or smoke. However everything in the store is to be sold out, so here are wonderful bargains in perfect Suits, and in the Suits that were wet a good pressing in many cases makes them as good as ever. The Suits that were thoroughly soaked will require time to dry and revamp.

150 Pairs Outing Pants at 25 per cent. None at all damaged.
Fifty Wash Suits at 25c and 50c each.
